Mystery Surrounds Death of F.H. Shuman During Swimming Party.

WIFE, SON LIVE HERE

Body of Former Erie Clerk To Be Taken to Carey for Burial.

The bruised body of Frederick Henry Shuman, 38, former resident of Marion, Kenton and of near Carey, was taken from the ocean near Miami, Fla., late Thursday.
Shuman was the husband of Mrs.
Doris Shuman of 310 north Main street.
Although circumstances point to drowning as the cause of Shuman's death, Miami police are investigating the cause of bruises on Shuman's temple, chin and forehead.
Eugene Wasser
According to information from Miami, Shuman drove to the beach
Thursday with Mrs. Milton Wynne of Miami. She failed to note any evidence of bruises on his head, she said. While she sat on the sand, Shuman ran up and down the beach for several minutes, and then entered the chilly water.
Two hours later his body was found in shallow water along the beach, quite a distance from where he had entered the water. Life-guards used artificial respiration methods for three hours in a vain attempt to revive him.
Another father told police she saw Shuman walking along the beach, apparently ill. Police found two shotguns, expensive camera and field glasses in the rear compartment of Shuman's automobile.

For six years, Shuman resided to Marion, living at 305 Mary street.
He was a clerk at the Erie residence. Two years ago, he and Mrs. Shuman and their son, Earl, Barton, 9, moved to Miami, Fla., because of his health. They resided at Miami until last June when Mrs. Shuman planned to return to Marion in the near future.
Mrs. E. H. Shuman, mother of the dead man, lives near Van Lue, six miles northwest of Carey.
Shuman's widow went to her home last night where arrangements were made to have the body brought to the home northwest of Carey for funeral services.
Shuman was born and raised near Carey. He joined the Ohio National Guard, saw service on

Scene of Trouble Is Place
Where Great Biblical Events Occurred.

By The Associated Press
LANARKA, Island of Cyprus, Oct. 23.—The military and naval power of the British empire was hastening today to quell a revolt in Cyprus, ancient Mediterranean island over which Alexander the Great squabbled with an Egyptian Pharaoh, and where St. Paul, St.
Mark and St. Barnabas preached early Christianity.
For a day and a half the island has been in control of revolutionaries who are demanding union with Greece, which sided Cyprus in the struggle against Alexander 2,000-odd years ago.
The revolt developed after weeks of growing resentment against a British imperial order imposing tariffs which the Cyprian legislative council had rejected.
Late last night a group of revolutionists stopped motor trucks carrying ration for British soldiers at Limassol, the ancient town where Richard the Lion Hearted married Berengaria of Navarre in 1191. The drivers of the trucks were forced to abandon them. The mob then overpowered the police and attacked and burned the district commissioner's house. Several police men were injured in the melee. Their comrades fired into the crowd and 10 or 12 persons were wounded.
Meanwhile the revolt spread to every town and village of the island.
At Paphos, where mythology says Aphrodite, the goddess of love, was born of sea foam, mobs roamed through the streets.

SEE INDUSTRY
CHANGE AHEAD

Steel Leaders Voice Optimism
at Institute Session
Today.

BUSINESS FEELING BETTER

Schwab Heads Executives in Forecast of Turn to Improvement.

By The Associated Press
NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—Optimism was in the saddle at today's semi-annual meeting of the American Iron and Steel Institute.
Comment by steel company executives bore out the assertion of the institute's president, Charles M. Schwab, that industry had found its second wind, even though most of the gain so far noted was in that inelastic requirement rather than in the order book.
Business feeling, speakers believed, had been strengthened by President Hoover's confidence program, and the consensus was that the steel industry, although still abnormally dull, had seen the worst.
Eugene C. Grace, president of Bethlehem Steel, said that while there had been no improvement in actual business, sentiment was "a little better" and that some consumers were taking more interest in their steel requirements.
Tom M. Girdler, chairman of Republic Steel, saw signs of better conditions and believed the foundation was being laid for improvement in 1932.
Confident of Future
The Schwab viewpoint was summed up as follows: "I believe in the continued growth of our country, the essential strength of the steel industry and the ability of our nation to master the problems of a complicated age. If this be optimism make the most of it."

Scouts To Collect Used
Clothing To Aid Needy

Articles of clothing for men, women and children, bedding, or furniture to aid in during the city's needy during the coming winter will be collected in the first campaign of the season Saturday morning by the Boy Scout troops of the city under the auspices of the Family Welfare society.
Contributors are requested to have their clothing ready when trucks arrive or in the event that they will be away from home it is asked that the bundles be left in charge of a neighbor or phone 1933, the Family Welfare society
headquarters, and arrangements will be made to collect at another time.
Demand to Increase
It is the hope of those sponsoring the campaign that a hearty response will be made in order to prevent want and suffering in the city. Already calls have been received at the society's headquarters in the Y. M. C. A. and as the cold weather advances the demands will be heavier. It was attended today by E. J. Schoenlaub, head of the group.
Tentative plans for opening the campaign are set for early next week, allowing a few days to sort, mend and place the articles on the racks.
Members of Marion boy scout troops will be notified sometime today as to the time and place of mobilization for the drive for clothing for the needy. Seventeen trucks will be supplied by local merchants to collect the clothing and work with the scouts in covering the territory.
Each troop will have a sector of the city as its territory. Each scoutmaster will be in charge of his troop's work and will direct the covering of the territory.
The scouts will work a short distance ahead of each truck, making a house-to-house canvass. The articles collected will be placed in by the trucks.

Latest Mode Harmonizes Silver and China Designs

Silver plate and sterling silver best designs.

BY MARGERY TAYLOR
Interior Decoration Editor, McCALL'S Magazine, Written for The Star.

The ensemble has really reached the table and the latest smartness is to have the silver and china match each other in pattern. Not only must the china reflect the true spirit of the silver but it must show the actual design. In one service, for instance, the design is embossed in silver on white china; another set features a Wedgwood motif in blue, and in a third the pattern is worked out in multi-color.

No Monotony
Because of the differences between china and silver, the similarity does not become tiresome. In fact, the new mode is encouraging its admirers to carry it further into the household, the candlesticks and the salt and pepper sets. The silver service plates, of course, come in designs to match the cards. Guests included Miss Saxe, Mrs. Paul Emery, Mrs. Grace Blessing, Mrs. Lucille Scott, Mrs. Emory McAfee, Mrs. Mildred Wolfe, Misses Pauline Thomas, Edythe Thompson, Eleanor Thompson, Mary Harrison, Kathryn Lurch and Mary Grubbaugh.

FAMOUS WORK OF CAINE UNPUBLISHED

Conjectures Raised Over Plans for Late Author's "Life of Christ."

An international news service LONDON.—Will the famous work of the late Sir Hall Caine, the "Life of Christ" ever be published? Although the book is completed and publication in England and America was already contracted for, Sir Hall Caine held back this colossal manuscript until what he considered would be the psychological moment for its liberation. Following his death everybody is wondering whether he left any instructions for its release. In any case it will be many months before it is issued as the manuscript totals 3,000,000 words, or about four times as long as the Bible, which contains only 773,746 words or 2,666,490 letters. His long and painstaking study of the sources of the early life of Jesus had brought him to a paradoxical conclusion. He was of the opinion that there was almost nothing recorded of the deeds and words of the most potent personality in history which could be regarded as indubitably authentic. Yet he was convinced of the reality of Christ himself. It is believed that the "Life of Christ" will cause a stir, both in the literary and religious world whenever it is published.

Flashes of Life

By The Associated Press

MINNEAPOLIS — Henry Ford is helping the farmers hang onto their potatoes until the market improves. Ford company officials have turned an abandoned assembly plant into a storage house where thousands of bushels can be stored. Unmarketed potatoes are selling for 25 cents a bushel.

ST. PAUL, Minn.—T. C. Borg came within two feet of obeying a court order and thereby saved his five-story building. He had been ordered to vacate 26 feet of land bought by the city. When the time limit expired house owners had the building off the plot all but two feet. The time was extended to finish the job.

HARRISBURG, Pa. — John Jackson was on trial for stealing a ham from a pot of boiling ascorbic acid. The court charged the jury that: "The ham was there, the defendant was there, the ham was gone, the defendant was gone." John was convicted.

OLD EGGPLANT NOT A DESIRABLE FOOD

Net Much Chance To Remove Bitter Flavor With Soaking Process.

"How long does it take to soak the bitter flavor out of eggplant?" inquires one housekeeper.

It can't be soaked out. If an eggplant is old, seedy, and bitter of flavor it can be thrown away, and much time saved thereby. But it's a better plan to choose the right kind of eggplant in the first place. A good eggplant is a bright, smooth, purple, firm of skin, with no wrinkly loose places, no brown spots. And it should be light-weight. An eggplant that feels heavy is probably old and full of large seeds, and nothing can make it edible.

Eggplant has a very mild flavor, but it has an agreeable texture. The simplest way of preparing it is to slice, peel and saute lightly in butter until brown on both sides. But the more common method of serving, at least in public restaurants, is to dip the slices in flour, then in beaten egg, then in fine breadcrumbs, and fry in deep fat quickly.

Stuffed Eggplant
1 eggplant, 2 cups tomato pulp, 1 cup chopped meat, 1 onion, chopped fine, 3 green pepper chopped, 4 tablespoons fine bread crumbs, 4 tablespoons butter, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper.

Slice off top of eggplant, remove pulp and cook in boiling water about 15 or 20 minutes, until tender. Drain, add other ingredients, and pack in eggplant shell. Dot with some crumbs and bits of butter and bake until brown.

Or cover top with grated Parmesan cheese instead of breadcrumbs. Eggplant can be cooked in cubes combined with tomatoes, green peppers, okra, and seasoned liberally. Onions, chives, or celery are good seasonings to add to eggplant and other vegetable mixtures.

"BULK," VITAMIN B, IRON
All in Kellogg's All-Brain

If you suffer from ordinary constipation, you will be benefited by Kellogg's All-Brain. Millions have found it brings relief.

Scientific tests show ALL-BRAIN supplies "Bulk," Vitamin B, and Iron. "Bulk" promotes elimination. Vitamin B tones the intestinal tract. Iron helps build blood.

In the package, ALL-BRAIN has a shredded appearance. But within the body, it changes to a soft mass, which gently cleanses the intestines. It is much like the "bulk" in lettuce or spinach.

Get the red-and-green package at your grocer's. Try two tablespoons daily for a week. ALL-BRAIN is natural—far better than pills or drugs, which may cause too strenuous action.

ALL-BRAIN is already cooked, flavored and branched—bran in its finest form. Serve as a cereal or try the delicious recipes on the package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

SHE GETS 'EM

When most girls start in to "capture" a man, subtle methods are used and, before he knows it he's in the power of the coy maid. Gertrude Miller (above), of Lima, O., uses a slightly different procedure and she hasn't yet failed to "land" her man. Gertrude has been respected and is beginning her fourth term as coquette. During her service 579 men and about 35 women have been respected by her without the slightest trouble. And she's only a high school senior, less than five feet tall!

EMPLOYEES OF CITY BUY DORMITORY BED

Two Departments Use Money
Donated for Flower Fund.

Going on the assumption that a bed this winter would be of more comfort to some unfortunate than flowers would be to someone who had died, employees of the city service and garbage collection department today announced through Service Director D. J. Harlow, the presentation of a bed and furnishings to the dormitory being equipped by Captain John Hunter of the Salvation Army. The money for the bed to be taken from a flower fund created by members of the two departments.

Each payday the service director paid this morning each of the employees contributed a small amount to a fund to be used in purchasing flowers. Because of few deaths in the families of the employees, the fund had grown to a substantial amount and at a meeting of the employees held several days ago it was voted to spend approximately $26 for a bed and furnishings for the Army dormitory.

OHIOAN CITED FOR HEROISM OVER SEAS

By United Press
WASHINGTON, Oct. 22—The amazing tale of an army private who risked his life for a bevy of army nurses and was praised therefor by President Hoover came to light today at the war department.

Before he enlisted for the duration of the war, Curtis Harrison was a farm boy at Lancaster, Ohio.
In France he became a nursemaid-in-ordinary to the regimental nurses. When a gas attack came, Harrison stayed with his charges for 12 hours, tied on their gas masks, and led them to safety.

In May, 1920, he received the distinguished service cross. Mrs.
Hoover thereupon wrote him presiding his "unselfish courage and devotion to duty." Harrison kept the letter secret, but the war department found out about it and told the world.

WOMAN DEADLOCKS JURY SEVEN DAYS

By The Associated Press
MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 22—Hallowed tradition may have it that women change their minds, but Mrs. Genevieve A. Clark today stood credited with sweeping away some of this.

For seven days, reports said, she has hung to her opinion in the face of an opposite view taken by 11 men, who with her form the jury in the trial of W. B. Fisher and six co-defendants on mail fraud charges.

She has resisted entreaty, pleas and cajoling, alone she has maintained her position against the combined and individual attritudes. As a result, the jury appeared hopelessly deadlocked and homesick and wear of it all, the panel today resumed deliberations in a room piled high with more than 600 exhibits of the prosecution along its walls.

TWO MEN GIVEN FINES, SENTENCES

Pair Sent to Jail for Burglary of Filling Station Last March.

Robert Foster 30 Negro, of 244
Patten street and Lloyd Cornwall 21, of 156 True street, arrested early this week in connection with the burglarizing of the A. K. Mc-cawley filling station at Greenwood and Mark streets in March, were each fined $100 and costs and sentenced to 30 days in the county jail by Municipal Judge W. R.
Martin this morning.

Both entered pleas of guilty.
Cornwall to receiving stolen property and Foster to larceny. According to Foster's story to the police Cornwall who was employed at the station, planned the burglary and provided him with a drawing showing the location of the switch box in which the money was kept.
After obtaining the money he said, he gave Cornwall $21 as half the loot.

Foster is now out on parole from the penitentiary where he was serving time for burglary while Cornwall recently completed a sentence at the Marionfield reformatory on a forgery charge. Belief that Foster would again be paroled if sent back to the penitentiary prompted local police officials to arraign him here.
The two were taken to the county jail this afternoon.

CHICAGO DOCTOR VISITS HOSPITAL

Dr. Moots of Chicago, field representative of the American College of Surgeons, was the guest of Safety Director Dr. T. E. Sonnenshine on a tour of inspection of the City hospital yesterday.

Surprise at the modern equipment and the efficient standard maintained at the hospital was expressed by Dr. Moots who said, in his belief, the hospital would acquiesce little difficulty in being admitted to the American College of Surgeons should the city council see fit to confirm the appointment of the hospital staff and the by-laws and constitution of the organization be adopted.

The matter of confirming the appointment of the staff, which was completed several months ago, has not yet been officially taken up by council.

Oakland School Most Modern in City

One of the major projects in the $750,000 school building program voted by the Board of Education in 1925 was to build a junior high school in Oakland Heights. This building is completed and will be dedicated Monday night by B. O. Skinner, state director of education. In the following article, the last of a series of three published by The Star to acquaint Marion citizens with work done under the program, a description and interesting facts about the new building are related.

Marion's most modern school plant will be dedicated Monday night when B. O. Skinner, state director of education, gives a dedicatory address in the new junior high school in Oakland Heights. Planned to meet modern school needs in every particular, the new building is extremely practical and was constructed economically without sacrificing essential features.

Although the building is beautiful throughout, it is not elaborate. Materials used in its construction were chosen for their durability rather than for ornamental appearances.

Capacity of 500
Nine hundred pupils can be housed comfortably in this building.

ing. Should need for expansion be felt in future years, it is so constructed and planned that limitless additions can be made easily. Seventeen classrooms housing from 35 to 40 pupils and containing 379 pupil stations and other special rooms handling 230 pupils make up the building.

It is of New England colonial architecture, skeleton type construction of concrete and steel finished with brick. It is trimmed in Bedford stone.

The building embodies several unique features. The gymnasium is so constructed that it can be divided into two gym floors capable of handling boys' and girls' gym classes simultaneously. When a collapsible partition is folded, the gymnasium becomes a single basketball floor with space for bleacher seats.

Anticipating public meetings or contests in the gymnasium or the auditorium, school officials planned the heating plant to heat these rooms independently. By the use of gates, either part of the building can be closed while the gymnasium or the auditorium is open, preventing trespassing in the building.

Has Music Room
Other than classrooms, the building contains special rooms including a music room with a small built-in stage. This room is sound-proof and is adaptable to small community meetings. It will seat 120.

A general shop department with a capacity of 24 pupils teaches rudiments in wood, metal, electrical, and plumbing work. A mechanical drawing room also adaptable as an art room is furnished with equipment designed and built in the vocational department of Harding high school in charge of L. H. Becker.

A library seating 70 persons and having a capacity of 4,000 books is built in connection with a study hall seating 40. One teacher or instructor can supervise both at once. Private conference rooms for student groups or for use by teachers in giving special instruction to students during off periods lead off library.

On the third floor, are two science rooms with modern equipment for 30 pupils in each. Acid resisting tops are used on desks and the rooms are otherwise well equipped.

Shower and locker facilities are provided for both boys and girls in rooms leading from the gymnasium. The equipment is modern in every respect, including individual showers for girls.

Has Radio-Phonograph
All classrooms and most special rooms are connected with the principal's office by an internal telephone and a built-in radio hookup makes it possible to reproduce radio programs in each classroom. This same hookup is connected with a microphone in the principal's office, which can be used to make announcements throughout the building.

Steam heat for the building is supplied by two boilers. The south wing of the building is ventilated by unit ventilators in each room. The central or main portion is ventilated by a central fan. The auditorium and gymnasium do not require mechanical ventilation.

Classroom floors are hard maple.

It is the most beautiful room in the building. Afternoon seats are equipped with table arms, making it possible to use the auditorium for instruction work.

Coal storage space in the rear of the building lies under a concrete platform on which coal trucks can drive.

The building cost $284,000, including architectural, structural and other costs. Equipment cost $28,000. The building is located on a nine-acre plot costing $9,000.

Harding-Bucyrus Battle To Stay in N. C. O. Race

BISHOPS CLASH WITH MIAMI SATURDAY ON DELAWARE GRIDIRON

Wittenberg-Xavier Battle at Springfield Tops Nocturnal Schedule Tonight.

The Associated Press. Ohio college football arrives at the half way mark this week-end with championships and first places still to be determined. The game Saturday afternoon at Delaware between Ohio Wesleyan and Miami will go a long way toward clearing the atmosphere in the Buckeye athletic association. Neither team has been beaten in league competition this year and share top place along with Ohio University which engages Cincinnati Saturday.

While these struggles are going on in Ohio, Division will be battling Wabash at Crawfordsville, Ind. DePaul will be meeting Boston and Wittenberg, the other member of the group will have met Xavier Friday night at Springfield.

Things will be rather quiet along the Ohio conference front. Oberlin will play at Wooster, Case at Akron and Otterbein at Ohio Northern. Two other conference titles are on the books for Friday night, Heidelberg going to Muskingum and Ashland entertaining Mount Union. Other Friday nocturnal games include Wilmington at John Carroll and Butler at Dayton.

Non-conference title Saturday will see Hiram playing at Western Reserve, Baldwin-Wallace at Rochester, N. Y.; Kenyon and Hobart, N. Y.; Marietta at Marshall, Huntington, W. Va., Findlay at City College.

ASHLAND SEEKS 3rd STRAIGHT VICTORY

Only Two League Games on Tap; Tigers Meet Uper; Gallon at Lima South.

BY BOB HIRKPATRICK Sports Editor, The Star

With both teams facing elimination from the North Central Ohio league football championship race in case of a defeat, Ashland and Harding High schools are scheduled to clash Saturday afternoon at 2:30 p. m. on Fairground field. Each of the teams has dropped its single start of the season to date, the Redmen being defeated 12-0 and Harding being smothered by the same team 26-0.

In the only other N. C. O. league encounter Saturday, Ashland, already holder of two league victories, will tackle the surprising Shelby Whippoorwill on the Whippoorwill home field. Mansfield and Gallon will both meet non-league foes, the former entertaining Upper Sandusky and the latter journeying to Lima for an almost certain beating from South High school of that city.

Offense Stymied

It took some time in Harding practice sessions during this week as they indicated, Bucyrus will be called on Saturday to check a far more varied running and passing attack than has any opponent of the Buckeyes Clash with Purple in Big 10 Feature

BY WILLIAM WEEKES Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO, Oct. 23—A lot of light probably will be let in on the mid-west football situation tomorrow.

Ohio State sprang into a menacing position last week by trouncing Michigan. Tomorrow the Buckeyes' brightest hopes or darkest suspicions will be verified when they tackle Northwestern's powerful Wildcats at Columbus. Northwestern rules favorites, but with resolute when it is remembered that Ohio State defeated Michigan. Notre Dame has mauled Indiana and Drake and played Northwestern to a scoreless draw in a game that proved nothing, due to weather conditions. Tomorrow the Irish meet Pittsburgh, which is described as having the best line in the east, if not the best eleven.

Minnesota will meet its first Big Ten opponent in Iowa, and in spite of a 35 to 0 defeat by Stanford two weeks ago, figures to win over the Hawkeyes.

Michigan's disappointed eleven will meet Illinois at Champaign, with the old rivalry the chief attraction. Each has been defeated, Illinois by Purdue, and Michigan by Ohio.

The Wolverines will be favored but the Illinois sophomores are hopeful of a surprise victory.

About the only thing to be decided when Indiana meets Chicago, in which is the better team. The Hoosiers have beaten the Maroons only once in the history of their rivalry, and appear to be due for their second at Stagg field Saturday.

Purdue and Wisconsin will handle the Big Ten's intercollegiate assignments for the week, both playing in the east. Wisconsin, with its surprising 13 to 14 victory over Purdue as a background, is the choice to win its second straight over Pennsylvania, while Purdue, somewhat battered in the Wisconsin game, faces a tough one in Carnegie Tech.

HARDING FOOTBALL RALLY ON SCHEDULE AT CENTRAL TONIGHT

Band, Drum Corps To Take Part in "Fog Raiser" and Snake Dance.

With the Harding High school band and the Eagle drum corps furnishing the music and a horde of interested students and other Harding football fans furnishing the vocal refrain, the first football rally staged previous to a local football game here in several seasons will be held tonight at Central Junior High school. The "fog raiser" is scheduled to get underway at 7:30 p. m. under the auspices of the Harding booster club.

There has been no definite program arranged for the rally. It will simply be a case of all the boys possible and the more the better. Harding cheer leaders will lead the assembly in a series of school yells. Coaches and schools officials are expected to give short talks as many some of the players. No verification could be made today as to whether the players would be on hand. Coach D. N. Bohrer may decide that the place for his team the night before the game is other than at the rally.

Following a period of celebration at the school auditorium, the assembly will parade through downtown Marion in a snake dance. City officials have promised that no interference will be made to the parade.

BIG LEAGUE TEAMS PLAN MANY TRADES

Chicago Cubs Likely To Make Most Drastic Shifts of Any Club.

BY HERBERT W. BARKER, Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 23—Football holds the sports page headlines these days by right of ancient precedent but baseball rumors are bound by no particular season of the year.

More trades and lineup changes have been made—on papers—recently than all major league managers actually made all last season. Perhaps with good reason, most of the rumors have involved the Chicago Cubs. Picked to finish one-two in the National league race last season, the Cubs finished third.

Rogers Hornsby and the Cubs' owner, William Wrigley, already have announced Hank Wilson has played his last game with the Cubs. Pat Malone, the big right hander, is another whose welcome in Chicago, has worn a bit thin. Both probably will figure in trades before the 1933 season begins.

Bill Herman is slated to cover second base and Elwood English will stay at short but otherwise the Cub infield is uncertain.

Hornsby has his eyes on Chuck Klein and Pinky Whitney of the Phillies but has small hopes of landing either. Hornsby would like Babe Herman for Wilson if he could get him and he'd jump at a chance to get Ed Brandt of the Braves for Malone.

The Champion Cardinals appear to be pretty well set for another year although third base may prove a problem before long. The Cardinals are grooming Burgess Whitehead from Columbus as eventual successor to Frankie Frisch at second base and the pitching staff won't be harmed by the addition of Dazy Dean, Tex Carlton and Ray Starr who, among them, accounted for 84 victories in the minors in 1931.

Washington is looking for a hard-hitting outfielder and might be willing to use Bumps Hadley or Joe Judge to get him.

If Charley Gehring's arm fails to return to normal he may be shifted from second base to first with big Dale Alexander going into the outfield where more punch is needed, by Detroit.

MOST REFEREES ARE AFRAID TO WORK IN ARENA WITH KILONIS

Kauffman Faces Perplexing Problem Getting Official for Monday "Rassie."

While Matchmaker Clete Kauffman really accomplished something in a promotional way in securing John Kilonis to meet Clyde Robinson here next Monday night, Clete now has a new and very perplexing problem confronting him. It's simply this—Who's to referee such an encounter?

Kauffman himself is a great referee, there's no doubt about that, but Clete's ailing shoulder is bothering him so much at the present time that he doesn't feel that he could capably handle two such wildcats as Kilonis and Robinson.

Ed Holt, who refereed last week's matches is also a good official but he is lacking in the experience needed in this case for will take a thoroughly seasoned, veteran official to keep this match from developing into a riot.

Kauffman tried to secure "Chab" Bason, rated the best mat official in the state but when asked by the press he said he was not available.

HASKELL-TEMPLE IN FEATURE GRID GAME

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

NEW YORK, Oct. 23—An inter-collegiate clash between the Haskell Indians and Temple at Philadelphia heads tonight's football program in the east.

The Indians have split even in four games thus far beating Kansas, champions of the Big Six, and Texas Tech, but losing to Washington and taking a 70-0 beating by the Oklahoma Aggies. Temple turned back Mt. St. Mary, Albright and Penn State before running in to a strong Buckeye team.

Other games tonight involve Western Maryland and Duquesne, at Pittsburgh; Grove City and Geneva, strong western Pennsylvania small college arrays at Beaver Falls; Davis and Elkins, unbeaten in five games, and St. Francis of Loretto at Johnstown, Pa.; Loyola of Maryland against St. John's of New York at New York; and Morehead of Kentucky against Morris Harvey at Huntington.

In the south, Catholic university will play North Carolina State at Raleigh and West Virginia will tackle Detroit at Detroit.

PURPLE ARRIVES

Northwestern in Columbus for Big Ten Battle Saturday

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 23—Northwestern and Ohio State University football teams will taper off their practice sessions this afternoon in preparation for the contest Saturday evening which will go a long way toward settling the mythical Big Ten championship.

The purple squad arrived in Columbus today and will hold a light signal practice, late today, following which the Ohio squad will have a short workout.

A late rush for tickets indicates approximately 30,000 persons will be on hand to witness the game. Coach Williamson's starting lineup probably will be the same as started last week against Michigan: Neuman and Giltman, ends; Bell and Haurbrich, tackles; Varner and Gehus, guards; Smith, center; Holcomb and Hinchman, halfbacks; Vuchelach, fullback and Cramer, at quarter.

I HATED TO DRAW THIS $5000 OUT OF MY PERSONAL ACCOUNT BUT I'VE GOTTA GIVE IT TO TOOTS AND LET HER THINK IT'S FROM THE SALE OF HER STOCK!

I BOUGHT TWENTY SHARES OF ABERNATHY COMMON AT $25 A SHARE AND TODAY IT JUMPED TO $25.09 A SHARE SO I TOLD CASPER TO SELL IT FOR ME! HE JUST BROUGHT ME THIS $5000 FROM HIS WINKER!

THAT'S FINE, TOOTS, BUT I THOUGHT-

AHEM! COME THIS WAY COLONEL! I WANT TO SHOW YOU SOMETHING!

ARE YOU TRYING TO SPILL THE BEANS COLONEL HOOVER? I DIDN'T BUY THE TWENTY SHARES FOR TOOTS BUT SHE THOUGHT I DID, AND SHE MUST KNOW THE TRUTH! I DIDN'T THINK MUCH OF THE STOCK, THAT'S WHY I DIDN'T BUY IT FOR HER, BUT IF YOU EVER SWITCH ON ME I'LL BRAN YOU!

Get Rid Of RHEUMATISM

New Medicine Drives Rheumatic Poisons from Joints and Muscles or Money Back

EASES PAIN FIRST DAY

Poisons settling in the joints and muscles cause rheumatism. You cannot get rid of rheumatic agony till these dangerous poisons are driven out of your system. That's why external remedies and pain-killing drugs only give temporary relief.

What you need is RU-M-A, the new medicine now sold by all drug stores that acts directly on the liver, kidneys and blood and helps expel through the natural channels of elimination the dangerous poisons that cause rheumatic misery.

No long waiting for your suffering to stop. RU-M-A eases pain the first day and is one rheumatism remedy that's guaranteed to free muscles and joints from painful stiffness, swelling and lameness, or nothing to pay.

Hansen & Cooper have so much confidence in RU-M-A that they want every rheumatic in town to try it and guarantee money-back if it does not stop all your rheumatic suffering. Adv.

An Overture from France.

Premier Laval has arrived in the United States to talk over Franco-American relations with President Hoover. It would be difficult to exaggerate the importance of his visit.

French domination of Europe, by holding Germany down, is an ambition that shuttles between dreamland and reality. Cooperation from the United States would further the ambition materially. The French do not even try very hard to disguise that fact.

An outline of the French position in the conversations to take place between Premier Laval and President Hoover was made in a recent edition of "Le Matin," leading Paris newspaper. It was stated under four headings: intergovernmental debts, disarmament, reparations and financial questions.

France does not favor an extension of the moratorium. It believes that debt reduction reaching as high as fifty per cent is the only real help for the debt situation. If the United States should consent to this, it would have to bear a loss of $200,000,000 annually for what amounts to an indefinite period.

France is willing to repay its sacrifices by the United States with a program of progressive disarmament on the basis of reduced budgets. It will not consent to disarmament, however, unless the pact of Paris is made to stipulate that the United States shall act in concert with other powers to punish aggressor nations, and shall deny the aggressor aid of any kind.

France can not renounce the unconditional part of reparations, it warns because its reconstruction loans are based on reparations payments. Furthermore, the French do not think it would be prudent to free Germany from charges equivalent to those which cost so heavily on French, English and American business. In other words, France intends to retain the present status of the reparations set-up, in effect.

France has little confidence in bimetalism, and is skeptical of what has been called the redistribution of gold. Premier Laval and President Hoover are expected to give special attention to the international credit situation.

It is along these lines that the conversations in Washington are expected to run. Within the next few days, France and the United States will become better acquainted with each other than they were during the trying days of the World War. The two great creditor nations of the world have matters of great importance to decide.

Increased activity is reported in the cotton mills of Lancaster and Yorkshire, England, since the suspension of the gold standard. The going is often good so long as it lasts, but what will be the outcome when the end of the road is reached?

Mr. H. G. Wells is at it again, his target this time being the peace treaty. "Simply to abolish war is nothing very much," he says. "Mr. Kellogg abolished war a year ago without any marked results." Anyway, Mr. Wells might give Mr. Kellogg credit for good intent instead of scoffing at him.

A mint farm up near Benton Harbor, Michigan, was robbed a night or two since of 125 gallons of peppermint oil. Properly diluted, that should work a lot of relief to the fellows who like to take something once in a while to warm up their stomachs a bit.

Arthur Schnitzler.

The literary productions of Arthur Schnitzler, who died at his home in Vienna, Austria, Wednesday, were moderately popular in the United States. Students of current literature were familiar with them, as a matter of course. There were, as is always the case, Schnitzler enthusiasts, but even they could not claim any considerable following for the writer. He was what all writers aspire to be, a recognized literary figure. He was not what few men can be, a truly great author.

Brevity of exposition was his strength. He tried his hand at long novels and long plays, but it will be his sketches, short stories and short plays that will bear his name to the recognition of the future. He also was limited as to subject. His best products all bore the essence of the colorful city in which he was born, and in which he died.

Thousands who never read a Schnitzler sketch, story or play, and who never will read one of them, are better acquainted with the author than they realize through "Daybreak," a recent moving picture. It was changed greatly from the Schnitzler story, but it conveyed as much as possible of the essence of his style. The late Wallace Reid, it will be remembered, played in the dramatization of Schnitzler's "Anatol" some years ago. "Anatol," a series of dramatic sketches of the love adventures of rich young Viennese, was the author's first and one of his most characteristic pieces.

The fact that another liquor ship with a cargo valued at $70,000 has been seized off New York harbor by coast guardmen will not prove so disturbing to the fellows who "can drink it or let it alone" as such a capture would have proved several years ago. Today the country is in pretty fair shape to meet its liquor needs.

Punishment by Ignominy.

The whipping post stands firm and strong in Maryland. It is reserved for wife-beaters. Punishment by ignominy is out of style most places, but Maryland still believes in it for the particular class of offenders. A fine, of course, would mean nothing to them. They could not pay it. Incarceration would mean little more. A few lashes on the bare back, however, are thoroughly effective. A man who has been whipped, even though his punishment has been administered publicly, is not likely to commit the same offense a second time.

Formerly, dogging was more common than imprisonment as a punishment for crime. Maryland's retention of the whipping post, therefore, is not so much a refinement in discouraging the crime of wife-beating as it is a salvaged relic from the old-fashioned method of handling criminals. It is, however, not the frightful instrument it formerly was when men frequently were beaten to death at it. It is the ignominy of the punishment that justifies the whipping post in modern times for hardened offenders.

WHAT ARE THEY SAYING?

From Our Readers.

PETTY JEALOUSY.

Editor Star—Within the past few weeks our hearts have been stirred by a communication, printed on the editorial page of the Star, signed "R. B. Walling."

We would like to take this means of enlightening Mr. Walling a little as to the advantages—or what he chooses to term as such—a railroadman has over a farmer. At least we suspect he is a farmer.

His article was in answer to another written by a Mr. Christ, presumably a railroadman, who seems to have been condemning the general public for the practice of using motor transportation for freight instead of railroad transportation, thus causing the railroad companies to become financially weak.

Quoting his article, or rather a portion of it, verbatim, concerning Mr. Christ's article, I wish to thus explain my view:

"He says the merchants do not give their customers any of the benefit derived through this cheaper transportation, but put the extra gain into their own greedy pockets. That is human nature."

"Now the farmer has been advised that his only salvation is to lower his overhead and cheaper production. About the only meaning that advice carries is to work a little harder."

"Now I am just wondering how Mr. Christ would respond to a suggestion that he accept a little cut in his wages so as to enable the railroad companies to lower their overhead to some extent. I do not suppose this would meet with his approval at all, but it is coming the same as in the case of a great many other matters."

When a man, no matter whether he is a railroadman or a farmer, has no money, he can go out with no investment but his bare hands and a pair of overalls and make more money than a farmer with an investment of $20,000 and working twice as many hours there is no doubt in the mind of the writer that his same inequality has its contribution in the present economic depression."

We sympathize with Mr. Walling sincerely if he has $20,000 invested in agricultural pursuit with such long hours, and wonder why he didn't take to railroading instead, if it is such a profitable snap.

Give the railroaders their just due. Haven't their years of expenditures been for the benefit of the public? Motor lines, although paying a license, have no such war expenditures for upkeep of roads. Numerous traffic accidents have been caused by the use of trailers on our public highways which are practically kept up by taxation.

We railroaders are a portion of the consuming public. Give the railroaders their freight business, or at least a portion, no matter how meager; give us back our employment with our comparatively recent war living wages, and our consumption of his hard-earned products will increase, and we will have the money to purchase from him although perhaps indirectly, and more or less help him to clear himself of his $20,000 investment.

He speaks of a man, no matter whether railroadman, carpenter, blacksmith or whatever, going out with no investment save bare hands and a pair of overalls and making more money than a farmer with $20,000 invested and working twice as many hours and says "there is something radically out of joint."

A railroadman invests the second most precious gift of God—his life—the first being the gift of eternal life through Jesus blood. He knows not upon leaving his cozy fireside and loved ones whether he shall ever return to them; he may be called at any hour of the day or night; rain or shine, heat or cold; sometimes he may make on his engine sixteen hours without stopping—this by agreement between employer and employee, he is an insurance risk, and the highest rate of insurance is assessed if he applies for it. He sometimes is compelled to be away from home for a week, eats his meals irregularly. He may be on extra board for a period of ten years, and then, through financial depressions or otherwise, may be furloughed for two years at a time, which sometimes compels him to seek other employment, and perhaps it takes him another ten years to clear obligations contracted while out of employment. He is sometimes compelled to accept charity for himself and family, no matter how much it hurts his pride and self respect.

An "extra board" man's only hope is that some time he may become a "regular" with livable wages for himself and family.

I have no quarrel with Mr. Farmer, only wishing him more success with his investment, for we are not our brother's keepers, and what in the way of wages is good for one, is good for all.

G. E. Jones.

The Word of God.

He that by envy and unright gain increaseth his substance, he shall gather it for him that will pity the poor. A faithful man shall abound in blessings; but he that maketh haste to be rich shall not be innocent.—Proverbs 28:1, 2.

Menace to Fishermen.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

Erysipeld is a skin condition which was first described in 1884. This disease is due to an infection caused by a bacillus, or germ, found in swine.

For many years it was believed the condition was caused alone from contact with these animals. Certainly it is conveyed by some animal, and swine are more frequently infected than others.

It is known now that many healthy swine may carry the disease without themselves being infected. The germ has been found in other animals, particularly in diseased cattle, sheep, birds and fish.

The infection in man is rarely severe. It is the mild form of the infection that was originally described by Rosenback in 1884.

It is not as rare a disease as it was formerly believed to be. It occurs among commercial fishermen, particularly during the summer. Their infection comes from contact with fish. When erysipeld involves the skin, it is likely to have followed an injury to the hand.

The infection has been reported as a result of contact with rabbits. It has been observed after handling recently thawed fish in the zoological gardens. It may come from the sting of the jellyfish. It has been known to occur from the handling of dogfish.

The disease is an important one because it is not a vital disease, it often incapacitates the infected person for many weeks. It is an ailment that requires great care and treatment.

This condition is, of course, preventable. All individuals who are exposed to any one of the possible methods of infection should be particularly careful of every abrasion or injury of the hands.

At present much work is being done on the possibility of developing a protective vaccine. It is hoped that with the completion of this study, the disease may disappear.

ANSWERS TO HEALTH QUESTIONS

D. L. Q.—My eyesight is getting weak and I read without my glasses my eyes feel tired and strained. I am wearing cheap glasses. Would they be apt to injure my eyes in any way?

A.—You also have difficulty in remembering—can anything be done to correct this condition?

A.—Have your eyes examined by an eye specialist and he will advise proper glasses. You are probably straining your eyes because your glasses are not suitable.

2.—This may be due to several causes. Old age, lack of concentration, poor health are the usual causes. Without knowing more about your case it would be difficult to advise treatment.—Copyright, 1931, by Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.

Dr. Copeland will answer for readers of this paper questions on medicinal, hygienic and sanitation subjects that are of general interest. Where the subject of a letter is such that it can not be published in the column, Dr. Copeland will, when the question is a proper one, write you personally, if a self-addressed, stamped envelope is enclosed, address all inquiries to Dr. Royal S. Copeland, in care of this paper.

Editorial Opinion.

CONSTRUCTIVE DESTRUCTION
It will not be so easy hereafter for the railroad boys to buy a so-called car for $15 at a junk yard. Junk dealers, organized and disciplined as the Institute of Scrap, Iron and Steel, will establish a chain of 300 yards, taking all the large cities. They will buy antique automobiles offered, but will not sell them as going concerns, it having been agreed at a convention in Pittsburgh that 3,000,000 cars will be scrapped annually.

Doubtless this plan serves the immediate interests of the scrap iron dealers, but it will tend also to make motoring safer and business conditions generally better.

Every outworn or seriously defective car on the highway is a public menace, and the owners generally are not responsible financially for the damage they do. As a representative of the manufacturers, said these drivers don't care if they bend a fender on their railroader and can't pay for the fender they bend on other people's cars.

That is true, but the fender bending is comparatively unimportant when so many lives lost and personal injuries inflicted are properly chargeable against outworn automobiles.

And if 3,000,000 wrecks are scrapped annually, and an equal number should be required for replacement. That, added to the number of cars produced for the export trade and for first car buyers in the country will end the production total closer to the 3,000,000 of 1929 than it has been recently.

In any event, the destruction of cars that have outlived their reasonable usefulness is a very much better business policy than casting surplus cars into the ocean or piling under every third row of cotton.—Tosco Blade.

These All-important Glands.

BY ARCHEBOLD REIDENBERG.

Within recent years, extraordinary interest has been exhibited by scientists and public alike in the glands and organs in the body known as the endocrine system. The endocrine glands are those which produce certain important internal secretions which have a powerful action of a transforming character upon particular organs and hence upon the human body.

Much has appeared in the press—often of a sensational character—concerning these glands of internal secretion. These internal secretions are products given up directly to the blood of lymph, the latter being a nearly colorless, slightly alkaline fluid derived from the tissues of the body and conveyed to the blood stream by the lymphatic vessels. Articles have appeared in the press under such titles as "The Chemistry of the Soul," "The Glands of Destiny," "Rejuvenation Through Monkey Glands," and the like.

It is of course to call the endocrine glands the ductless glands, that is glands which have no ducts for discharge, but give up their products directly to the blood or lymph. This is an incorrect classification, since certain endocrine glands or organs, notably the pancreas, not only give up products directly to the blood or lymph, but also discharge otherwise through ducts.

It is certain that the internal secretions play a really remarkable part in our physical and mental state, whether of well-being or of ill-being. These internal secretions, technically called hormones, profoundly influence our body-structure, our health and our whole personality.

It is taken for granted that the central nervous system constitutes the most important factor in keeping the parts of the body in harmonious operation and correlation. Next in importance to the nervous system in this respect come the secretions themselves. As Professor Guyer points out, they are necessary for normal development and growth. They can stimulate or inhibit the activity of some organ or tissue in a part of the body far distant from the source of the secretion itself. Making all allowances for sensational accounts of the effects of these secretions, the results already achieved by the biologist, the pathologist and the biochemist, are significant and suggestive of far more important discoveries in the future.—Copyright, 1931, International Feature Service, Inc.

Dr. Thompson Comes to Ohio.

BY J. H. GALLBRAITH.

In an interesting letter written several years ago by Dr. William J. McCarty, of Oxford, he tells of calling Dr. Charles C. Thompson into the educational field in Ohio, which placed his feet in the path that led to the presidency of Ohio State. Dr. McCarty had been placed on a committee of Miami trustees to seek a successor to President Warfield when he resigned in 1901. The committee had a letter from Dr. Moore, afterward Bishop Moore of the M. E. church, warmly recommending Dr. Thompson, who was then at the head of Longmont college in Colorado. It was written to him by W. W. Root, the president of the board. Dr. Moore was then located in Colorado and had observed the work of President Thompson. He was a fraternal brother of Herron. All were favorably impressed.

Col. W. D. McClung, chairman of the vacancy committee, wrote to a number of persons he knew about Dr. Thompson's qualifications and in one reply came the information that Dr. Thompson would be in Detroit in a few weeks. The committee designated Dr. McCarty to go to Detroit to see and hear Dr. Thompson. He asked whether, if favorably impressed, he might broach the Miami presidency to Dr. Thompson and was so authorized. It was a meeting of the general assembly of the Presbyterian church that Dr. Thompson was attending.

Dr. McCarty was pleased with Dr. Thompson and introducing himself, laid the proposition at Miami before him. He was inclined to consider the matter. From Detroit Dr. Thompson was going to Cambridge to visit about his old home. It was arranged that if the trustees should vote to invite him to the presidency he should be advised of the fact by telegram at Cambridge, and he would stop at Oxford on his way west and over the ground. All went through it as arranged and in two weeks Mr. Herron had a letter from Dr. Thompson accepting the Miami presidency.

"This was a great day for Miami," said Dr. McCarty in closing the letter. "And it brought among us a man whom many of us love. Dr. Thompson is great not only in capability and efficiency; he is great-hearted."

Palmer Hits Ohio Relief Bond Issue in Address

State Farm Bureau Head Says Organization Opposes $7,500,000 Program as Means of Forcing Move for Equitable Distribution of Taxes.

Advocating farm bureau opposition to the $7,500,000 state welfare bond issue to come before the voters in the November election, L. E. Palmer of Columbus, president of the Ohio Farm Bureau federation, last night addressed the quarterly meeting of the Marion County Farm Bureau at LaRue. More than 100 members heard the address in the high school auditorium.

Palmer also proposed that the farm bureau work for the increased utility tax for bus and truck transportation systems and a personal earned income tax as the basis of the public school system.

Chorus sang A women's chorus of the LaRue Parent-Teachers' association sang several numbers on the program, which also included a novelty song and guitar number by Ivan Cooper and Norman Showers of LaRue.

In explaining his proposals, Palmer said: "The farm bureau is opposing the proposed $7,500,000 state bond issue for the state welfare system not because it is opposed to welfare programs but because its failure to pass will help force the issue on adoption of a taxation program in Ohio which will widen the base of taxation and relieve real estate of the unfair burden of taxation it has been bearing. An amusement tax could probably be made to finance the program, thus bringing a large number now not paying their share of taxes into the tax-paying picture."

Legislation can not take the place of personal initiative but eventain primitive and regulatory legislation is necessary to protect personal initiative and make it more effective.

Make Cares Pay "The two big items for which taxes are collected and spent are roads and schools. On the average, roads take 35 per cent, schools 45 per cent and local government, 20 per cent of the dollar raised by direct taxation. The farm bureau program has called for a shift of the cost of roads from real estate over to the users of the roads. Much of this shift has been accomplished through the gasoline tax, the elimination of direct taxes and property assessments for the building and maintenance of highways. Still more can be done on this, especially through heavier utility taxes for large through passenger and freight transportation systems."

Palmer urged the advocacy of a personal earned income tax as a measure in broadening the base of taxation for support of the public school system. This, he claimed, would help to spread the cost of schools more equitably, according to the benefits received and ability to pay, than does the present real estate tax.

FIND BODY IN BAY AT MIAMI, FLORIDA

Mystery Surrounds Death of F. H. Shuman During Swimming Party.

Shuman was confined to a hospital, where he met Doris Harey, who later became his wife. Shortly after leaving the hospital he participated in the World war, seeing 15 months' service abroad. He returned to Kenton, married Mrs. Harey and they made their home there until moving to Miami.

Information Meager
Meager information about Shuman's death reached his widow here yesterday by telegram. She said she did not know Mrs. Minnie Wynne, nor did she know any reason why Shuman might have met with foul play excepting her fear that he might have been robbed and thrown into the bay. Shuman worked at a filling station near the bay at Miami from 11 p. m. until morning. Mrs. Shuman said she often feared he might be robbed, assaulted and thrown into the bay.

Shuman is a member of a Masonic lodge at Miami.

When the League of Nations, the United States joining in, says to Japan, "Please get out of Manchuria, and stay out, leave those Chinese alone, hurry," Japan, always polite, says, "Yes, certainly." "Yes, certainly."
But today you read of airplanes from Tokyo again bombing Chinese in Manchuria. Some bombs fell near a railroad bridge, others are said to have struck some cities.
Japan says that the Chinese troops fired at her fliers. That is not improbable, although China says Japan's accusation is like that of a man, arrested for stealing and killing sheep, who told the judge, "I'll kill any sheep that bites me."

FOR CENTURIES Irish fishermen and their families have lived on the wild, wind swept islands of Inishkeel, off the coast of County Mayo. You know those courageous fighters of the Atlantic if you have read Sygne's beautiful and powerful play, "Riders to the Sea."
The Irish Free State, bringing all the inhabitants of lonely Inishkeel back to the main land, gives to each six acres of good land and one thousand dollars to improve the land.
Here we should call that paternalism. The angel Gabriel probably has another name for it.

SCHWAB SEES BRIGHT FUTURE IN BUSINESS

"Restrained Cheerfulness" Features Business Address of Steel Leader.

Although he said, "very one is feeling better," Mr. Schwab warned: "We must face some hard facts both in our own business and the industrial world as a whole. I said at our last meeting that the tide was coming in—it certainly was, but it proved to be a tidal wave."

The desire of people in all parts of the world is for peace, the speaker said, adding that the talk of another war has no place in the hearts of people anywhere. He said if the government deemed it wise to "reduce our navy program," the steel industry will be the first to support the move, although some of the companies have large facilities for building navy vessels and armament, "facilities which would welcome more business, but the nation comes first, and we shall welcome any measure that fosters permanent peace."

Mr. Schwab gave this prescription for bringing about industrial improvement: "A better financial structure, which is now under way, a liquidation of extravagance in business, including prices, which has already taken place in most lines to a substantial extent, a reduction in the cost of government which is borne by industry, and the people, and a vigorous enterprising attitude on the part of industry."

Concluding Mr. Schwab said: "Our house is in order. The financial world is straightening itself out. Industry has gotten its second wind. Let us keep up the selling campaign, keep up advertising, improve your production methods, face the difficulties, but with courage, confidence and knowledge that we are on the upward path. Our industry will do it."

C. B. KING PRESIDES AT COLUMBUS MEET

Marion Man in Charge of Ohio Manufacturers' Session.

C. B. King of Marion, president, was in charge of a meeting of the Ohio Manufacturers' association at the Deshler-Wallick hotel in Columbus yesterday in which a social members heard discussions on Ohio's new tax laws.
C. W. Hemphill, supervisor of cost accounting, and B. L. Hemphill, general account of the Marion Steam Shovel Co. and U. A. Nystrom of the Fairfield Engineering Co. also attended the meeting.

A non-partisan congressional examination of the economic effect of the present methods of enforcing the anti-trust laws was urged by James A. Emery, counsel for the national association of manufacturers, at a dinner session of the meeting last night, according to the Associated Press.
"Business," Emery said, "can not safely navigate the perilous shallows of the anti-trust law without a compass and a pilot."

Emery said that demands for economic relief "under the misnomer of insurance" had created a "series of public policy" as accepted by the courts. He suggested that a large deficit in the federal treasury, Emery suggested that "the improvement of the existing situation lies in establishing conditions that beget and multiply jobs, rather than in arbitrarily determining who shall be compelled to accept responsibility for the operation of causes beyond his control."

Clarence D. Layton, who was special counsel to the joint legislative taxation committee, led the discussion of the state's new tax act, and conducted a general forum on taxation. Warren E. Perry, executive secretary of the state association, and Dudy Miller, Wilmington humorist, also spoke.

DEMOCRATS MOVE INTO HOUSE LEAD

Death of Congressman Gives Party Plurality First Time in 13 Years.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—The Democrats for the first time in 13 years today outnumbered the Republicans in the house.
The death yesterday of Representative Fletcher Hale of New Hampshire, a Republican, left the lineup of the house as follows: Democrats, 214; Republicans, 213; Farmer Laborite, 1; vacancies, 7.
Not since 1915 when Woodrow Wilson appointed drastically to the center for a return of a Democratic congress and saw a Republican majority elected have the Democrats been in the ascendancy, even temporarily.

The present lineup, however, will not last until congress convenes in December.
Five special elections have already been set for Nov. 3 to fill vacancies caused by death. Two are in districts normally Democratic and others are normally Republican. Should they go as in the past, the house lineup would be divided with each major party holding 216 votes. Representative Kvale of Minnesota, the Farmer-Laborite, would retain the balance of power.

REPORTS ON LEGION AUXILIARY MEETING

Program Outlined for Year by District Chairman; Local Women Attend.

Plans disclosed at the sixth district American Legion auxiliary meeting in Johnston Tuesday showed that programs have been well laid and that the women were to be one of the most active in the district career. Mrs. Van A. Ricketts of LaRue, district chairman, announced today in a report of the meeting. A group of women from the auxiliary of Bird-McGinnis Post No. 162, attended.

Mrs. E. H. Corbin of Richmond, national delegate, and Mrs. Bessie Gendling of Mt. Pleasant were among the speakers.

Mrs. J. Edward Johns of Marion, department president, spoke, outlining auxiliary plans for the year. In one instance she said: "Our American Legion auxiliary has been accused of being a military organization; of wanting another war. The idea is silly. We women of the American Legion auxiliary know the hardships and heartbreaks of war. We want a quiet national defense as an insurance against war."

LA RUE CASE GOES BEFORE OHIO COURT

G. E. Hardin's Appeal Carried to State Tribunal; Files Motion.

The case of G. E. Hardin of LaRue against Edwin C. Kennedy and others, an action in which Hardin has attempted to place his mechanics' lien ahead of a first mortgage as a lien on property, was laid before the supreme court of Ohio yesterday. Hardin filed a motion with the court asking it to order records in the case certified to the court for a review of the case.

Hardin won the case in common pleas court when his mechanics' lien for $800, was placed ahead of mortgages for $5,685 and $6,022 held by the Union Central Life Insurance Co. and the National City Bank & Trust Co. of Marion respectively. When the mortgage holders carried the case to the district court of appeals, the lower court was reversed and the mortgages were considered as prior liens as compared with the mechanics' lien.

The suit was begun by Hardin who sued Edwin C. Kennedy and Emma C. Kennedy of Marion for work on the construction of a home at the Kennedy farm near Mount station in Marion county. Kennedy, according to attorneys, paid only part of the amount of money due Hardin, and Hardin filed suit for the remainder, which amounted to $800. The bank and insurance company set up their respective mortgage claims against the property.

The law firm of Carhart, Warner & Carhart represents Hardin. The firm of Clark & Aiter is counsel for the insurance company; Guthery, Strellis & Guthery represent the National City Bank & Trust Co. and O. W. Kennedy is counsel for Kennedy.

COURT RULING AIDS LOAN ASSOCIATIONS

Check on Receiverships Seen as Stabilizer for Ohio Finance Situation.

By The Associated Press
COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 22.—By a four to one supreme court granted a writ of prohibition to Attorney General Gilbert Bettman restraining the Franklin county common pleas court from entertaining the Columbus Building & Loan company receivership. The concern, with assets of $33,000,000 operates in Columbus.

Attorney General Bettman made the case a state-wide issue in his argument before the court. He contended the purpose of the writ sought was to prevent promiscuous receivership applications in common pleas courts.

Judge Edward S. Matthias wrote the opinion in which he said the authority for the inspection, supervision and control of building and loans was vested by the legislature in the state superintendent of building and loans and that "action of a court of common pleas in contravention thereof will be restrained by a writ of prohibition."

Commenting on the decision, Attorney General Bettman said: "It is a wonderful protection and stabilizing influence to the financial situation in Ohio. The supreme court has put a protecting coat around the building and loan associations of Ohio which will prevent random attempts of unauthorized receiverships. This decision makes the practice in Building & Loan association matters conform with state and national bank matters."

RENEW'S APPEAL FOR WIFE TO SURRENDER

Husband of "Trunk Murder" Suspect Promises to Provide Legal Aid.

By The Associated Press
LOS ANGELES, Calif., Oct. 22.—A renewed appeal to Winnie Ruth Judd to surrender and face charges of murdering the two women whose bodies were found in trunks here Monday night was broadcast today by her husband, Dr. W. C. Judd, who promised to provide legal defense.

Two attorneys were engaged by Dr. Judd to represent his wife in the event she is found alive. They are Richard H. Canfield and Louis P. Russell. Canfield was an attorney for William Edward Hickman who was convicted and hanged for the murder of Marion Barker.

In revealing the engagement of the two attorneys, Dr. Judd said he had "every confidence" in his wife.

The inquest into the deaths of Miss Hedvig Samuelson and Mrs. Agnes Ann Lerol, both of whom, police charge, were slain by Mrs. Judd in Phoenix, Ariz., was called today. It is promised to be a perfunctory affair, concerning principally the identification of the bodies. Police said it was their belief Mrs. Judd was still in southern California.
